FRONTIER PRESS SET

These eight beautiful 19" x 26" prints were created to preserve the unique time in American history when newspapers were the heralding voice of a new frontier.

The artist, Jack Roberts, was born and raised in Oklahoma. He studied art at The University of Oklahoma, the American Academy of Art in Chicago and the Grand Central School of Art in New York City.

The prints were painstakingly created with fade resistant inks and 80 lb. Lustro Saxony acid-free paper.

WILL ROGERS PRINT

Charles Banks Wilson's portrait, "All I Know is What I Read in the Papers," is an accurate depiction of the late Will Rogers.

The painting was commissioned in the early 1950s as a calendar illustration before NBC purchased reproduction rights and sent out color mats of the portrait.

It has appeared on many newspaper covers across the nation and has appeared in several exhibitions.

The original portrait was purchased in 1962 by the Oklahoma Press Association to be showcased in its lobby.

The 16" x 20" image area is printed on 20" x 24" archival-matte paper.
